

Firm Jack favourite Twinkle Troughton has an exhibition at Pure Evil this November 'Never Shall be slaves' Twinkle says 'I decided to use that as the shows title as I think the paintings in this collection all contain elements that we are slaves to, such as the media, fast food and fast living, judgement, material goods and so on.' And in the current climate what better a theme? Jack has loved Twinkles work ever since we booked her band almost 3 years ago now and actually realised she was an artist as well! A girl with limitless talent not only part of The Fairies band and an excellent artist but a founding member of Pushing Pussy records. Its a wonder how she finds the time!
With banking and property investment looking dismal Jack thoroughly advises you to invest in the art world - and in Twinkle. We look forward to seeing you down there! LOF
